

WHY CHOOSE PROVANT® THERAPY FOR SAFE, NON-DRUG PAIN MANAGEMENT?

Patient Care Coordinators • Proven Energetics • Dedicated Support

February 2017 Newsletter

Pain is often the reason for clinic visits. At Regenesi Biomedical we are focused on patients in need of relief. We invest in life science lab research and clinical trials, to help ensure the Provant device delivers the therapy these patients deserve.

When you choose Provant Therapy, experience and support comes with it:

- Safe, non-drug pain management.
- Clinically meaningful outcomes.
- Therapeutic energy parameters proven to be effective. We've tested different settings, and small differences make a difference in outcomes; settings matter. As a company, we are committed to continually research, test, and improve outcomes even more.
- Safe patient use: Underwriters Laboratories (UL) and Edison Testing Laboratories (ETL) Intertek certified.
- Patient Care Coordinators: Provide device in-service training; monitor disposable applicator cover usage; track patient outcomes for clinicians and payers.
- Dedicated, company-direct, local support.
- Over 13,900 patients have treated with Provant Therapy.

Provant Therapy from Regenesi Biomedical Inc. is a safe, non-drug pain management option to consider. To learn more, please contact your Regenesi representative, or visit www.regenesibio.com.
